PURPOSE AND OUTCOME

Course Overview
This course introduces the student to economic theories, concepts, and microeconomic analysis of the demand for and supply of healthcare goods and services and health insurance. We explore the various ways demand and supply are affected by policies such as tax subsidies, sociodemographic characteristics, social determinants of health, and human behavior. We will compare and contrast healthcare systems of developed nations focusing on the various strategies used to achieve universal healthcare coverage. Finally, this course introduces the concepts and methods for the economic analysis of health care decision alternatives. Topics will include demand and supply for health and healthcare, health insurance, information economics, economics of health innovation, health policy, public health economics, behavioral health economics, cost-benefit, cost-effectiveness, and cost-utility analyses. It emphasizes the application of these methods to the evaluation of alternative health programs.

Relation to Program Outcomes
This course prepares students to apply economic concepts to the US healthcare system and its various stakeholders and prepares them to assess the multitude of tasks, challenges, and problems that arise in practice from an economic perspective.

Course Objectives and Competencies
Upon successful completion of the course, students will be able to:

- Use an economic framework to describe and explain how consumers make consumption decisions and time tradeoffs between health, healthcare vs. non-healthcare goods, labor, and leisure.
- Use microeconomic theories to better understand issues associated with the organization, financing and delivery of health care.
- Understand the motivations and incentives behind the provision and purchase of health insurance.
- Better comprehend and critically read the literature in health economics and health services research.
- Describe the major economic dimensions and trends of the U.S. health care system and those of other major developed nations.
- Understand the economic forces that influence the economic dimensions and trends in the health care sector.
- Describe and critique the leading economic theories of consumer and producer behavior in the health care sector.
- Examine major health policy issues from an economic perspective.
- Understand and describe the conceptual bases and the application of cost-benefit analysis (CBA), cost-effectiveness analysis (CEA), cost utility analysis (CUA), and cost-of-illness studies.

Instructional Methods
This course is taught through lectures, homework assignments, three exams, and a semester project. Reading assignments must be read before class so that we can have engaged class discussions. Homework assignments are to be completed after class lecture and reviewed the following week. Your participation in the class is vital to its success.

ACADEMIC REQUIREMENTS AND GRADING

Exams (60% weight)
60% of your overall grade will be based on your performance on the 3 exams (20% for each exam), each covering 6 chapters of the textbook as well as assigned readings. The exams will be taken via HonorLock and will be closed-book/notes exams. Study guides will be provided and time will be taken during the lecture sessions prior to the exam dates to review materials. However, these are only “guides;” the goal as graduate students is to be able to think critically, not just to “learn to the test.”

Homework (20% weight)
It is extremely important that you keep up with your reading assignments and participate in class discussions. After lecturing on each chapter, you will answer certain questions from the end of each chapter that you will submit to indicate that you completed the assigned homeworks. We will review the answers to the homework questions in class the week following the respective class lectures. Homework will be graded based on completion with reasonable responses given rather than the correctness of the answers. You will be allowed to miss two homework assignments, for whatever reason, without penalty. Missed homework assignments beyond that will require excused absences that meet university guidelines.

Semester Project (20% weight)
Each student will identify a real case, topic, or issue regarding a health care system or health care policy that interests them. They will apply health economics theories and concepts that were learned in the course (e.g., value of technology and innovation, pharmaceuticals, health system reform, competition and collaboration, etc.) in discussing the topic they chose. Students can choose health care cases, topics, or issues from the news media (Reuters, CNN, BBC, The New York Times, Fox news, Yahoo news, UF Health news, etc.) or papers published in numerous health and healthcare journals. The semester project can be in the form of a term paper, approximately 5-pages in length, double-spaced, and 11 point font. Or it can be in the form of narrated Powerpoint slides up to ~8 minutes in length. Both the paper or Powerpoint presentation should have the following structure: 1) Introduction/background of the case, topic, or issue chosen. This includes a description of the pertinent issues, causes, and factors/questions to be addressed; 2) Apply at least 5 relevant economic theories and concepts to discuss and explain the issues and factors at play for the topic chosen; 3) Identify possible alternative solutions and explain which of these options you believe is the best solution and its implications; 4) Conclusion—what are the salient points you want the reader to take away? 5) Reference list.

Policy Related to Required Class Attendance

Class attendance is a critical component of the learning process. Students are expected to arrive for class on time, be prepared and ready to participate in class discussions. Students are expected to be present for all classes, since much of the material will be covered only once in class. Students are responsible for obtaining notes, handouts, and summary of the lesson/class activities if a class is missed. The syllabus and course schedule is subject to revision so remember to always check Canvas for updates if you missed class. Please note all faculty are bound by the UF policy for excused absences. Excused absences must be consistent with university policies in the Graduate Catalog (http://gradcatalog.ufl.edu/content.php?catoid=10&navoid=2020#attendance). Additional information can be found here: https://catalog.ufl.edu/ugrad/current/regulations/info/attendance.aspx. Unless an emergency, please inform me ahead of time regarding your upcoming absence so that any necessary accommodations can be made.

Make-up Tests

Unless an emergency, you must contact the instructor and teaching assistant at least 24 hours in advance if you will miss an exam and explain what issue (e.g., bereavement, illness) necessitates lateness. In some cases, documentation may be requested. If a lateness allowance is agreed to, this applies to the single exam only. It does not allow you to delay future assignments. Make-up exams, assignments, and other work in this course are consistent with university policies that can be found at: https://catalog.ufl.edu/ugrad/current/regulations/info/attendance.aspx. For excused absences students will be permitted a reasonable amount of time to make up the material or activities covered in their absence. If you miss a test and a make-up test is approved, the test will be made up during the earliest date possible, ideally during office hours.

Late Submission of Homeworks and Semester

Because homework assignments will be covered in class, late homework will not be accepted. You will be allowed to miss a maximum of 4 homework assignments out of 19 for any reason and still received full marks for homework. Graders will not contact you about missing or incomplete assignments. It is your responsibility to check that the correct assignment has been submitted to Canvas on time.

For the semester project, 10% will be further deducted from the final grade for each 24-hours that it is late for a maximum of 48 hours of tardiness. Semester projects after this late period cannot be accepted in order for the projects to be graded and course grades to be submitted in time.
Technical Issues
Any requests for make-ups due to technical issues MUST be accompanied by the ticket number received from LSS when the problem was reported to them. The ticket number will document the time and date of the problem. You MUST e-mail me or the TA within 24 hours of the technical difficulty if you wish to request a make-up.

Policy on Collaboration
You are welcome to collaborate on homework assignments and encouraged to form study teams for exam preparation.

Policy Related to Guests Attending Class:
Only registered students are permitted to attend class. However, we recognize that students who are caretakers may face occasional unexpected challenges creating attendance barriers. Therefore, by exception, a department chair or his or her designee (e.g., instructors) may grant a student permission to bring a guest(s) for a total of two class sessions per semester. This is two sessions total across all courses. No further extensions will be granted. Students are responsible for course material regardless of attendance. For additional information, please review the Classroom Guests of Students policy in its entirety. Link to full policy: http://facstaff.phhp.ufl.edu/services/resourcereguide/getstarted.htm
